

AN ESTABLISHED COMPANY WITH EXPERIENCE

In 1989, Pacific Closet Works Ltd. (later STOR-X™ Organizing Systems) was established by Wolf Nickel with a goal of providing versatile, economic, custom fit, organizers for the home building market. The relationship with the building industry provided a strong foundation for growth and a 40+ dealer network was built across North America. STOR-X™ has recognized that dealers were in need of business and operational support that could benefit from shared advertising and marketing so the development of the franchise model was a natural evolution. Today, STOR-X™ is recognized as an industry leader by pioneering the manufacturing of LEAN and GREEN processes to the industry.

VISION

We provide solutions to an organized lifestyle with best buying experience from start to finish. We are made up with innovative and creative staff. Our leaders share professional and contemporary work ethics with sound business minds. We are environmentally conscious with both lean practices in the manufacturing plant and green practices on site.

A GROWING NEED

Closet organizers have become as common as kitchen appliances as home owners are increasingly expecting their space to be organized. Whether it is the closet, pantry or garage, organizing systems create peace of mind and can assist builders in selling homes. In many markets, the customer is not receiving the high level of service and the quality of product that meets their expectations. STOR-X™ fills this gap.

THE CUSTOMER EXPERIENCE

STOR-X™ fulfills our promise of offering storage solutions and creating more space through a stress free process. STOR-X™ comes out and gives a free in-home estimate using proprietary 3-D computer software illustrating exactly what the organizers will look like. Always professional, the installer arrives on time bringing all the necessary pieces to complete the job and clean-up after themselves, recycling all the cardboard and plastic. The storage system is on budget and often exceeds the expectations of the customer. As a result, the customer has an improved lifestyle with peace of mind and ease of life through being organized and free of clutter.

Our business is making peoples' lives organized through innovative storage solutions with a unique stress-free buying experience.
